

APRIL, 2011

The Archangel working with you right now is Archangel Raguel, whose name means "Friend of God." Raguel is asking that you pay attention to recurring physical and emotional feelings (clairsentience), as they signify Divine Guidance. Your repetitive emotions and physical feelings provide important information, so please notice and follow these feelings.

Archangel Raphael is the Angel of Healing. He is guiding you (or someone you're concerned about) to change physicians. This could be for a variety of reasons: the physician is not well-versed for the matter of concern; there is a lack of bedside manner; their beliefs do not mirror that of your own (or whomever you're inquiring about); they are negative...focusing on all that is "wrong" and what cannot (in their opinion) be healed; or you're being prompted to seek a naturopath or a physician open to integrative therapies. This message could also pertain to veterinarians.

Archangel Michael is the Angel who cuts away fear, negativity and lower energies. His message to you this month is to shield yourself. In addition to calling on Archangel Michael, consider carrying a protective crystal, such as black obsidian, or using an essential oil (such as White Angelica). This could also signify to make sure you and your loved ones are shielded with adequate insurance.

The next card drawn for you is that of Archangel Michael himself. He is working with you in a powerful way! If you're considering making life changes, such as leaving a job or relationship, ask Michael for guidance and help in moving forward fearlessly.

Meditation is very important for you right now. A quiet mind hears the voices of God and the angels more easily. Take time daily to meditate, even if for just five minutes. Once you develop a daily routine, meditation will automatically be part of your day (much like brushing your teeth).

Jesus and your angels are asking you to open your heart to love. To manifest a soulmate relationship, heal any fears about giving or receiving love. Forgive those who seem to have hurt you. Be loving with yourself and focus on opening your heart chakra.

The energy of "son" is present. This could mean one of several things: a son will come into your life; you will be called upon to help the son of a friend/family member; you will be helping an animal who is like a son to his owner; or a son in Heaven is letting you know that he's happy and sends his love.

Archangel Raziel is continuing to work with you in taking back your power. Be open to continuing to work with this Archangel...just as you didn't give your power away in a month, neither will you gain it all back in a month. This is a journey....celebrate the continual growth as you step back into your power and see the Heavenly Love that is you. During this time, review your life, beliefs and/or behaviors, resolving to change anything that is unbalanced or that no longer serves you.

~ TESTIMONIAL FROM CLIENT ON THE ABOVE ANGEL CARD READING ~

When I initially read that the energy of a 'son' was with me in April, nothing really resonated with me, as I do not have children. Several months later, when I very unexpectedly adopted a male dog who was in dire need of a good home - I realized, this is my 'son'...and yes, this happened in April. Additionally, looking back, I now realize I did change veterinarians (as was suggested by Archangel Raphael) and found an amazing holistic vet who I just LOVE. Not only did I find a new vet I loved, but I found a job within her practice. The angels have been an amazing source of guidance to me, and when I look back at my readings, I know I am exactly where I am meant to be.

~ M.D. from New Jersey

The above is shared with permission from the client for whom the reading was done.

© 2011, Peace-By-Peace, LLC